Shipping Policy

Jack Farley's Art Supplies uses the United States Postal Services for all deliveries where possible.

This shipping method is the standard method chosen on all shipping choices through our website.

We do not offer expedited shipping services other than store pick up where applicable.

In rare cases the default shipping charge displayed at checkout may not be sufficient to cover the cost of shipping due to weight of total items. Examples of adjusted shipping rates can apply to furniture, large quantities of paint products, large/oversized canvases, to name a few. In cases of adjusted shipping rates, we will contact you for approval on shipping cost adjustment, prior to charging your card for your specific purchase.
